

Past Hall Center Graduate Summer Research Award Recipients

The Hall Center is pleased to offer summer support for up to four (4) graduate students engaged in humanistic dissertation research and writing. The goal of these awards is to make possible full time dissertation work for the months of June and July. Students will also be required to organize a series of Graduate Student Research Workshops during the academic year following the summer of support, where they will have the opportunity to present their own work at these workshops.

The Graduate Summer Research Awards are made possible by the generous support of the Friends of the Hall Center.
